

“Eddie Martinez: Studio Wall”

Art, Contemporary art  Drawing Center , Soho  Until Saturday February 3 2018

Photograph: Collection of Ellyn and Saul Dennison

Known for colorful paintings that recall midcentury abstraction, Martinez is plastering the Drawing Center with thousands of sketches that he will change throughout the exhibition’s run, a gesture that mimics his practice of keeping a wall in his studio reserved for drawings and studies. The show also includes paintings and large works on paper.
