10. “Kiki Kogelnik” at Mitchell-Innes and Nash

Don't miss Mitchell-Innes and Nash's first solo show for artist Kiki Kogelnik (1935–1997), whose feminist take on Pop art often reduces the human form into colorful silhouettes. Paintings and sculptures from the early 1960s to the late '80s reflect the post-war era, with all its technological advancement and political instability, as experienced by an Austrian artist who spent most of her life in New York City.

Location: Mitchell-Innes and Nash, 534 West 26th Street

Price: Free

Time: Tuesday–Saturday, 10 a.m.–6 p.m.
